This demonstration consists of two 4 3/4-inch square polaroid filters in holders that have large arrows attached. They are most effectively used on the overhead projector, where the students can observe the relative orientation of the two filters as they are rotated.