Set on lecture table, center-front, and project on screen. Controls include lamp, stroboscopic motor, and motor speed. Fill until water is slightly less than half way up on slope. (Water container lifts off to empty.) If air bubbles on accessories bother, rub off with finger. Everything works fine except refraction, and it doesn't seem to work at all.